

Organic ScoreCard©

Client Name

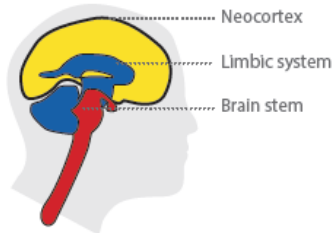

Confidential

Human brain

Mammal brain

Reptilian brain

Neocortex

Limbic system

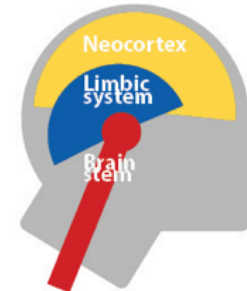

Brain stem

Awareness patterns

The interpretation of the scores strongly depends on context.

Philosophical aspects

Basic brain systems

Psychological perspectives

Red: Emotions

The need or drive to fight, flee or freeze. This awareness is about agility, speed, turbulence and change.

Enthusiastic
Dynamic

Vulnerable
Resisting

Reliable
Sure

Rigid
Doubtless

Trusting
Freeing

Detached
Naive

Blue: Stability

Predictability, reliability, staying power. This is about restrictions or rigid safety, recognizable and predictable structure in terms of yourself or the future.

Yellow: Trust

Letting go, surrendering, distance and abstraction. It is about being unconditional and detached, smiling and intrinsic safety or absence.

Organic ScoreCard© dimensions

- Motivation my inner being
- Ambition my mask towards the other
- Relevance the way I see my gift accepted
- Connection the bonding I experience
- Values the influence I let others have
- Structure my longing for regularity
- Position is about my awareness in being
- Norms the intangible influences for out there
- Knowledge the greater source from which I tap
- Planning the continuity of the now
- Agility my capacity to react
- Insight my inner recognition

I Perspective
I take full responsibility for my situation.

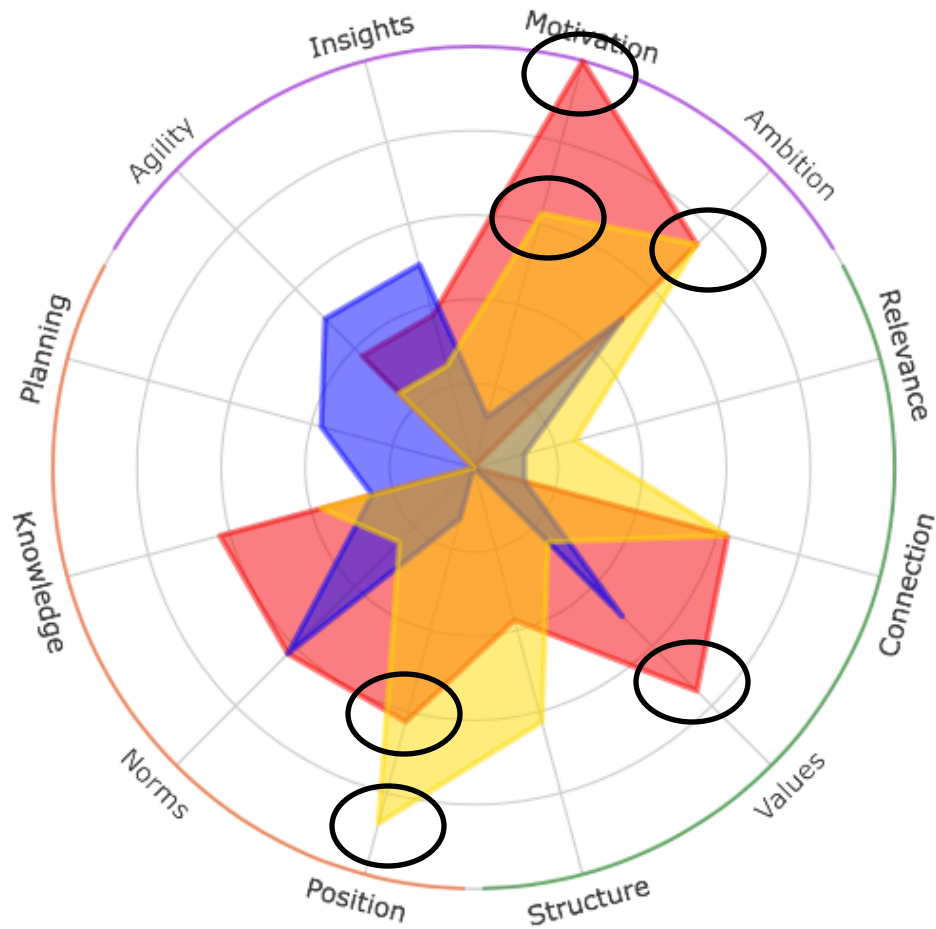

WE Perspective
Responsibility is something you share.

IT Perspective
We have no influence on what happens.

What is your Coaching Question?

What question would a useful one for you to have answered now?

Key Strengths

Life giver

Life givers are powerful, driven, mobile and able to reinvent themselves.

They are needed for growth and enthusiasm.

They have a 'lust for life' and are life-creating.

Life giver

Threatened, anxious, milling around without really achieving anything, fighting for survival, like someone driven into a corner.

Grandma

Grandmothers focus on being there for all that is needed, content and the source of rest for everyone.

I can be there for others from a fulfilled Self.'

They love, give safety and embrace from their abundance.

Grandma

Untouchable and hiding behind a wall - smiling but detached.

Advisor

Advisors embody invitation.

They show their most endearing smiles and quickly put people at ease with their kindness.

They want to be perceived as inviting and open. Their friendliness and ability to listen make everyone feel welcome.

Advisor

His smile is off-putting.

He is so out of touch with himself that he cannot make contact with others.

Actor

Actors have abundant inspiring energy that attracts attention.

Their enthusiasm can bring things into movement.

They take centre stage to refocus other's attention.

Actor

Attention seeker that don't see the boundaries of others.

Constantly showing others what he found or who he is.

Captain

Captains have the urge to take control and know exactly what to do.

They make underlying relationships clear that others know how they need to work, care and live together.

They determine, arrange, push and pull where they think it is necessary to do so.

Captain

He only knows one side of the truth and that is his truth.

Wine maker

Wine makers have peace of mind in the given order, free from the here and now.

The given-ness of life is often translated into a natural sense of long-term reassurance.

Their being in life sometimes feels like destiny or magical.

Wine maker

Dwelling on the haziness and meaning of life, unable to feel, to understand or to get moving.

Hunter

Hunters are alert and looking for opportunities to confirm themselves and prove themselves.

They want to stay in charge of initiatives.

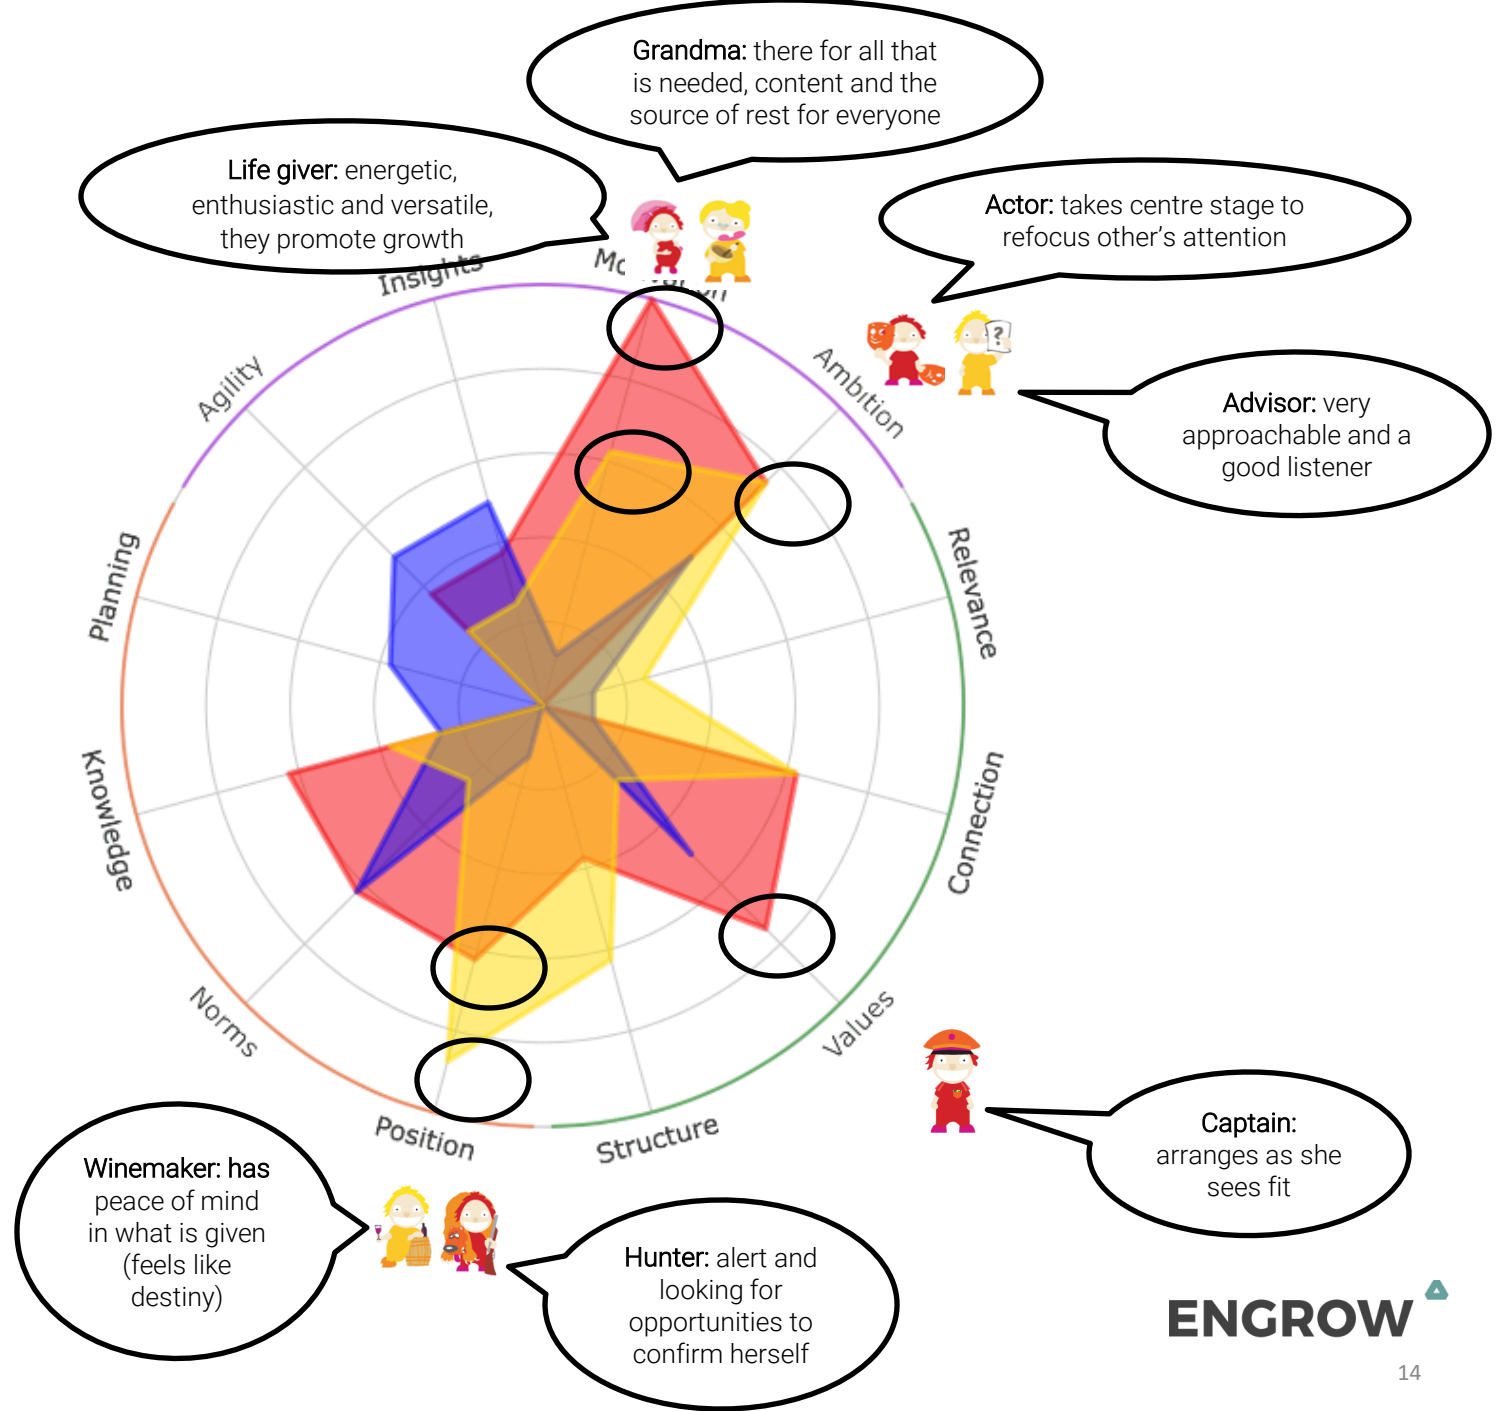

They are industrious self-starters.

Hunter

Insecure, on the verge of fundamental self-doubt and with fear for his own survival.

Scanning and waiting without taking decisions.

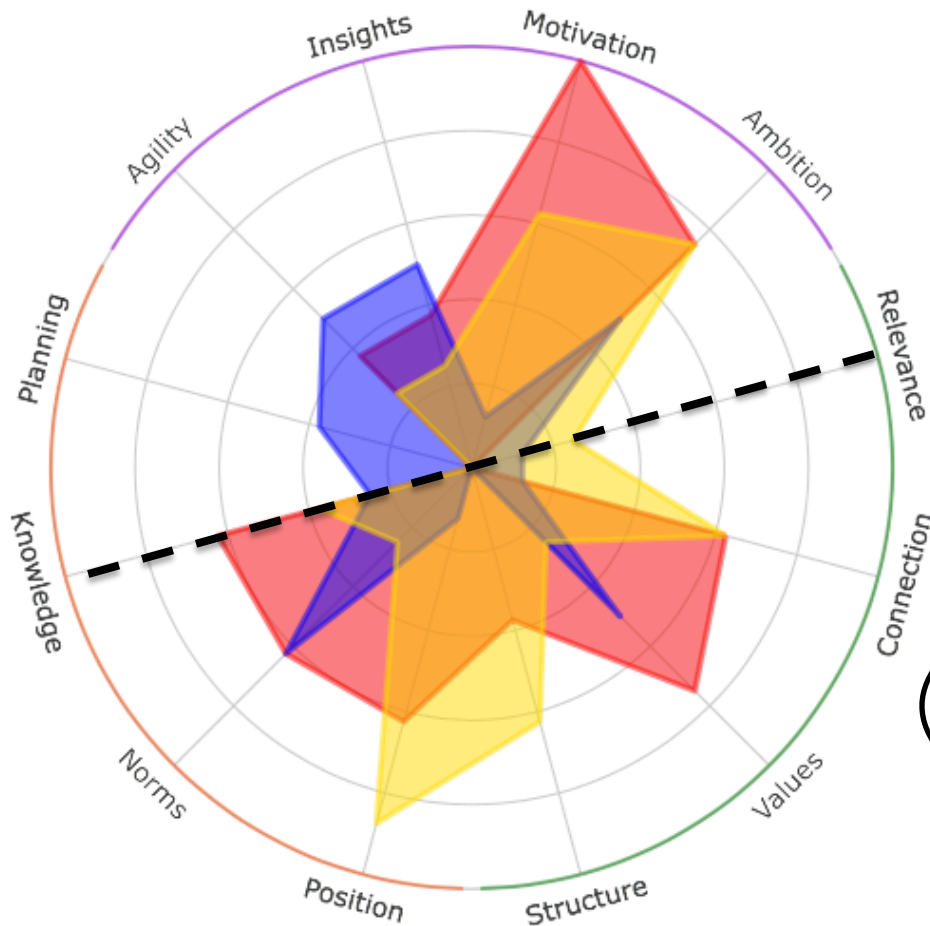

Summary of strengths

Trusting, kind and approachable Life giver,
there for all that is needed, content and the source of rest for everyone,
takes centre stage to refocus others' attention,
takes initiative to involve everyone in the group,
Has peace of mind in what is given (feels like destiny),
alert and looking for opportunities to confirm himself.

Potential Growth area

Reflection question

How aware am I of the influence of my existential right in my relationship with others?

Empowerment: The experience to grow one's Life.

I am an inexhaustible source of creativity and inspiration and use that to deliver what others' need.

ENGROW

ENGROW

MONENE MURRAY

Mobile: +27 82 570 2917

E-mail: monene@engrow.co.za

Website: www.engrow.co.za

LinkedIn: <https://za.linkedin.com/pub/monene-murray/5/1/260>

Facebook: www.facebook.co.za/engrow

Twitter: www.twitter.com/engrowcoach